

Create a website for a films directory

Build a static (front-end only) website for a films directory. As a starting point, you may want to use wireframes, as we did in the UX lesson. You can use your assets or the assets within the following github repo.

The film website needs to reflect the existing variety of genres. You have been given the following requirements after interviews with the client's representatives:

Their primary client base are their existing customers and potential customers who wish to see the news and videos regarding films displayed on the website and any new material as it becomes available.

-target clients by email signup form. Also the website would like to use the site to showcase their products

And publicise their availability to provide services

The client has provided you, the developer, with the following assets that they would like to showcase on their website:

Photos of the films

Links to videos
